DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims are non-statutory as not being tangibly embodied in a manner so as to be executable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 8-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Motegi, US. Pat. No. 7,088,017.
5. Claims 1, 8-23, Motegi teaches a storage device protection system having a disk for storing data [Hard Disk], the disk including a disk medium and buffer means for writing data to the disk medium, the storage device protection system comprising: detecting means for detecting an operation to cut off a main power supply of the storage device protection system [shutoff detector 63 of Fig. 4]; access suspending means for suspending access to the hard disk when the detecting means detects the operation [col. 4, lines 51+]; medium writing means for writing data in the buffer means to the disk medium when the detecting means detects the operation [col. 4, lines 56+]; and power cutoff means for cutting off the main power supply after the writing operation of the medium writing means [col. 4, lines 65-67].

Allowable Subject Matter

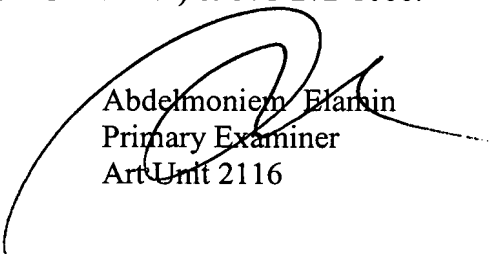

6. Claims 2-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
